GALIANO ISLAND, June 6.—A community sing was much enjoyed last Sunday evening on the lawn at "Beaumaris," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. Cayzer, in aid of the annual Sunday school picnic. Mr. J. Burrill very kindly took the accompanying part of the many choruses, also the solos, which were contributed by Mrs. C. Twiss, Mrs. W. Thomas, Miss G. Verrinder and Mr. C. G. V. Morgan. During the evening a dainty supper was served in the garden which was artistically illuminated by Japanese lanterns.

Mr. C. Elverson returned last Thursday, after a short visit to Victoria.

Mr. M. Enke is a visitor to Vancouver this week.

Mrs. J. W. Bellhouse entertained at tennis last Sunday, her guests including a launch party from Salt Spring.

Mr. D. Gibson, of Vesuvius, paid a business trip to Galiano for a few days last week.

Mr. A. Lord has returned to the Island after an absence of two years.

Mrs. V. Zala returned today after a very enjoyable visit with relatives at Burnaby Lake.

Senior Lacrosse Schedule Drawn

The senior lacrosse schedule has been compiled up to July 1, when a further schedule will be published. The present schedule is as follows:

June 8—Sons of Canada vs. Sidney, at the Stadium.

June 15—Garrison vs. V. I. A. A., at the Garrison.

June 20—V. I. A. A. vs. Sons of Canada, Victoria West.

June 22—Sidney vs. Garrison, at Sidney, 7:30 p.m.

June 29—V. I. A. A. vs. Garrison, at Victoria West.

July 1—Sidney vs. V. I. A. A.

The various club colors are:

V. I. A. A., red and white; Garrison, red and blue stripe sweaters; Sidney, blue and white.

The Sidney team will be picked from the following:

A. Robertson (captain), G. Anderson, M. McClure, J. Crossley, W. Crossley, A. McIntyre, J. B. Burton, P. Segalerba, E. Norton, M. Norton, C. Reid, A. E. Banton, J. Jenner, M. Simpson and K. M. Malcolm.

DEVILFISH CAUGHT.

We have been informed that nineteen devilfish were caught around Portland Island last week, ranging in weight from 30 to 45 lbs.

Celebration Was Great Success

Children's Sports Last Saturday Under the Auspices of the North Saanich W. I., Most Successful Held by the Organization

Much to everyone's delight, last Saturday, June 3, dawned bright and warm and by noon the children in their holiday attire had assembled at the corner of Beacon avenue and Third street, in readiness to join the procession to the grounds.

There was some little delay occasioned by the late arrival of the band from Victoria, but they arrived at 2.15, and twenty minutes later a large float, gaily decorated with greens, flowers, bunting and flags, made its appearance. As it came to a standstill at the bank corner it was discovered that the May Queen, Miss Hazel Hill, with her Maids of Honor, were occupying the most prominent place in the float, while the small couriers, Master John Speedie and Per Voss guarded the Royal party. Shortly after the arrival of the May Queen and her Maids of Honor, the band struck up a lively tune, and the march to the grounds was commenced. In the parade were noticed Ruby Lophthien, representing the W. I., dressed in yellow, her bicycle being decorated in yellow and green.

Henry Rankin, baker boy, wheel having rolls, etc., attached. As the most original decoration, this won first prize.

Kathleen Watts, decorated wheel.

Agnes Craig, decorated wheel.

Florence Hambley, representing W. I., was awarded first prize.

Gertrude Cochran, decorated wheel.

Myrtle Wilson, decorated wheel.

Charlie Coomer, decorated wheel, awarded first prize.

Following the decorated bicycles came a Shetland pony with decorated saddle occupied by Victor Lophthien, and trotting along behind was a miniature Charlie Chaplin and a clown, who caused great amusement by the antics. Then came the following:

Decorated baby carriage, Kathleen Taylor. This was awarded first prize.

Decorated go-cart, F. Thomas.

Decorated Red Cross cart, Pen Campbell.

Team of white goats, decorated saddles and Cupid riders, in charge of Hope Crichton. A special prize was awarded for this clever addition to the parade.

Decorated doll carriage, Mary Taylor. This was awarded first prize.

Decorated doll carriage, Edna Holdridge. Awarded second prize.

Decorated doll carriage, Elaine McKay.

Decorated doll carriage, Dulcie Brethour.

Decorated doll carriage, Wilmer Crichton.

Decorated doll carriage, Alden Cochran.

Decorated doll carriage, Jean Speedie.

Decorated doll carriage, Neata Brewster.

Decorated doll carriage, Elizabeth Campbell.

Much time and labor had been expended by the children in preparing the various vehicles for the parade, and the result was a very pretty sight as they marched up Beacon avenue to the grounds.

Mr. Watts had his team groomed to the minute and bridles decorated.

to the turn off the main road, they rolled again and piled in a heap in the ditch against Mr. Menzies fence, the one underneath being doubled up and jammed with such force that it took seven men an hour to extricate him. The upper horse was rolled over onto the roadway with little difficulty after the harness was removed, but it was thought the other one was seriously hurt from the force of the upper one falling on him with the wagon tongue between. He did considerable groaning at first but seemed to be relieved when the weight was removed. Beyond a severe bruising and bleeding from the nose, it was thought he had suffered no serious injury as he was able to walk home. This experience surely

Big Day Here on July First

The Sidney Athletic Association is busy making arrangements for July 1, Sidney's big sports day. Several meetings have been held during the past week and a strong committee has been appointed by President Geo. Hill, as follows: Messrs. J. Crossley, J. B. Burton, E. F. Lesage, Geo. McMullen, W. H. Dawes, G. A. Cochran, W. Crossley, Mr. Lehman, W. Patchell, F. Bowcott, A. Robertson. The committee met on Tuesday evening, and after a general discussion sub-committees were formed as follows:

Refreshments, advertising, sports, games, dance.

While the program has not yet been arranged there is every promise of a very big day. This is some of the bill of fare promised: Two lacrosse games, one a senior league; a big baseball game by giants, a football game, bicycle race Victoria to Sidney, school relay team race, Indian races, dance, etc.

The advertising committee is having a big programme folder printed, and local merchants will be invited to take advertising space in this, and will have the first chance. There will be a guaranteed 2,500 circulation.

Will Move to Larger Premises

Miss E. Roberts, head mistress of Sefton College, Girls' Private School, Victoria, has leased the Irving estate, recently used as a convalescent home for returned officers, on the corner of Menzies and Michigan street, near the Parliament Buildings, and will move into the new quarters about July 1. The house is equipped with a large gymnasium room and large sunny bedrooms, also class rooms, etc., while two acres of ground, fenced, surround the house. This will prove a splendid place for the school sports, etc.

Sefton College has developed to such an extent that it was necessary to make arrangements for more commodious quarters. The fall term will commence on Sept. 6, and Miss Roberts expects a considerable increase in the number of pupils which the term commences.

CARD OF THANKS.

The members of the North Saanich Women's Institute wish to express their grateful thanks for services rendered and donations given by the various people in Sidney and district towards the celebration held on Saturday, June 3.

Initial Meeting of Recreation Society Was Interesting; Team Runs Away, But No Serious Damage Was Done

(Review Correspondent)
PENDER ISLAND, June 6.—The initial entertainment of a series to be given by the Recreation Society, was held in the Hope Bay hall last Friday evening with a fair crowd in attendance. Mr. Victor Menzies acted a schafman in the absence of the senior members of the executive, and Mr. Alex. Hamilton opened the proceedings with a very able and interesting address on "Political Economy," a subject which he has given careful study for some years, and it should prove very interesting to the people here. Rev. Mr. MacMillan next spoke a few words in regard to Mr. Hamilton's address, congratulating him on being so apt a student, and recommended the subject as one of vital importance to any rural or farming community at the present time. Mr. Peter Stebbings then asked a few explanatory questions, after which a motion was passed deciding that the matter be left for further discussion at some future date.

A short musical program followed. Mrs. Harold Bowerman sang "Beneath Thy Window," and chose, as an encore "The Heart of a Rose." Mr. W. B. Johnston played a couple of piano solos, then Mr. Alex. Hamilton sang "Jack's Yarns" in his usual way, being encored heartily, after which he sang "When the Kyo Come Home." Mrs. P. W. Garrett acted as accompanist for both soloists. The National Anthem brought the proceedings to a close, and the next meeting was discussed. It will probably be held on the second Friday in July, notice of same and programme to be announced later.

Mr. Alex. Brackett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brackett, has been spending a short holiday with his parents after some years at sea. He has been with the Dollar Line, for some time now, as third mate on the "Harold Dollar," and has made numerous trips to the Orient. He had hoped to spend a few months at home this time, but unfortunately has been requested to re-join his ship, and leaves tomorrow, with the hope of a promotion soon.

Mrs. K. Yamada returned home on Saturday from St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, but we are sorry to learn there is little improvement in her condition.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart and family came out from Victoria on Saturday and will spend their holidays with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Davidson.

Miss Marjorie Patrick, of Victoria, is also here again for her vacation, and is staying with Mrs. Aldridge.

The summer visitors, campers and holiday-makers have started out early this year, there being quite a number here already. Robt. Roe has some of his cottages occupied, and there are numerous enquiries from all sources. Mr. James Simpson has built another two-roomed summer cottage at his beach and intends to rent it, furnished, and Mrs. Craddock is making additions to her house and cottages with the intention of accommodating visitors and campers. The demand is already greater than the supply.

Mrs. Rea, of Vancouver, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Peter Stebbings.

Mr. Roy Adams and Mr. V. W. Monzies made the return trip to Victoria on Friday on the launch "Aristo."

The S. S. "Coaster," Capt. M. F. MacDonald, was in at Hope Bay again on Friday evening, but brought no cargo.

There have been several parties looking over property during the past week with a view to purchasing.

Mr. Ben Ames has left for San Francisco where he will join one of the Dollar steamships as mate. He was only allowed an hour's notice in which to get ready and away, and it was only through the kindness of Mr. Burton, of the launch "Aristo," in waiting at Port Washington on Friday evening for him, that he was able to get away immediately and so make connections. His friends are all pleased to learn of his appointment, and wish him much success. He is an old hand at sea-faring, having been in the Imperial navy, and holds deep sea captain's papers. He is also a returned soldier of the recent war.

Another former Penderite who has just received a new marine appointment, is Capt. J. MacDonald, who recently spent a holiday with his mother here. He has just been taken on the strength of the G. T. P. as relieving officer at Vancouver, and will make the triangular run with the Grand Trunk boats while they are in from the north.

K. Yamada's team occasioned considerable excitement at Hop Bay yesterday forenoon by running away a couple of times. The first time they only ran a short distance, making the turn at the old store so quickly that they overturned and tumbled in a heap against the old mill shed. After being set in place, Percy Corbett was holding their heads while Yamada got his load on again, which consisted of baled straw. For some unaccountable reason they suddenly bolted, and as Percy was unable to hold or stop them he made a jump for safety. They tore up the road along the bay, and when they came

Wedding at Fulford Harbor

Miss Phyllis James and Mr. Edward Thomas Lee United in Marriage on June 1; Will Reside at Point Grey

(Review Correspondent)
FULFORD HARBOR, June 6.—On Thursday last, June 1, at 11 a.m., an event of interest took place here when Miss Phyllis James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James of Vesuvius, was united in marriage to Edward Thomas Lee, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Lee, of South Salt Spring. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. J. Stoodley, in the presence of some twenty relatives of the happy couple. The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of white silk jersey cloth with conventional wedding veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bridal bouquet of white flowers. She was given away by Mr. Fred James, her brother, while Miss Edna Molloy, niece of the bridegroom, acted as her bridesmaid. Mr. M. Lee, brother of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony those present partook of the delicious wedding breakfast provided, and witnessed the cutting of the cake. Mr. T. H. Lee proposed the first toast to the bride and groom, which was responded to by the latter. Mr. C. C. Castle, of "Woodhill," Ganges, and the Rev. J. Stoodley also proposed toasts and spoke. The bridegroom thanked his parents for their handling of the arrangements and presented to his mother a picture of himself and his brother, Mr. M. Lee, on which was secured his five war medals.

The newly-united couple left at 4 o'clock for Victoria, from which place they returned on Saturday in time to attend a dance given in their honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wakelin, cousins of the groom. Nearly fifty friends were present to wish them every happiness, and all enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Lee are leaving the Island on Saturday for Point Grey Vancouver, where they will reside.

On Saturday night a farewell dance was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Reynolds, of Beaver Point, to the Ganges and Simpson boys, who have finished logging on Mr. Reynolds' land and are leaving shortly. The music was supplied by King's orchestra, and everyone enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. King, Mr. and Mrs. D. McLennan, Miss M. McLennan, Miss Hazel King, Miss Vera King, and Messrs. A. Gorden, A. and F. Simpson, P. Pyatt, F. Downie, A. and P. Stevens, M. McLennan, D. Lasseter, T. Ingham and K. King.

A baseball game was played here on Sunday afternoon between the Seafarers and the local boys. The game was full of interest to the crowd that had assembled to watch

The scoring ran even until the fourth innings when Fulford brought in five runs, giving them a total of 8. However, Saanichton immediately added four to their tally and brought their total up to 7. From then till the end of the game the teams were only able to score one run each, leaving the South Salt Spring team in the lead, the score being 9-8. The batting orders were:

Saanichton—E. George, 3b; A. Irvine, rf; L. Purser, ss; A. Pelkey, p; Cooper, 2b; B. Paull, 1b; J. Sam, lf; R. Kanai, cf; E. Underwood, c.

Fulford—W. Douglas, 3b; E. Lumley, cf; Downie, p; A. Maxwell, 1b; Brenton, ss; W. Hamilton, rf; E. Reynolds, 2b; A. Hepburn, c; G. Hamilton, lf. Frank Reynolds was the umpire.

After the encounter was over the teams were given refreshments.

Next Sunday a colored team from Victoria will visit Fulford and try its mettle against the local boys.

Mrs. Addison and family have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Eaton of the White House for a few days.

Mr. Andrew Stevens is home for a two weeks' holiday.

All arrangements are virtually complete for the concert to be given here by local artists on June 9 in aid of the Hall fund. There will be songs, humorous numbers and a farce in one act entitled "The Little Rogue Next Door." A dance will follow and refreshments will be served.

The football match that was to have been played here last Thursday between the South End "B" team and the Ganges second team was postponed and will be played at 6.30 on Friday next, giving the visiting players an opportunity to stay over for the concert and dance.

NOTHING DONE.

There was practically no business transacted at the meeting of the Parks directors last Monday evening, as it had been discovered that a few sections of the proposed by-laws needed further consideration. Mr. B. Roberts and Dr. Beale were appointed to take the matter up with Mr. M. B. Jackson, M.P.P. Another meeting will be called as soon as the committee is ready to report.

SKELETON WHISKED FROM HEALER'S ROOM.

VANCOUVER, June 8.—Overlooking some money in a desk drawer, thieves entered the office of Dr. B. B. Levesque, drugless specialist, the other night. They took away a suit case containing part of a skeleton that was about to be wired together. Nothing else was taken. It is believed the intruders imagined the suit case contained drugs, as it was locked.

FRUIT MEN EXPECT BUMPER SEASON.

NEW WESTMINSTER, June 8.—Prospects are bright for fruit growers of the Delta and Fraser Valley this season. The growers believe they will conclude with highly satisfactory results, even if the prices are not up to expectations. Earlier in the season it was feared floods might have injured the crops, but later investigations show this to be in error.

HOPE EXPRESSED FOR COLLIERY MEN.

VANCOUVER, June 8.—According to word received by public men of this place, now returning from Ottawa, Premier King is disposed to do all he can to aid the coal interests of Vancouver Island and expresses concern and interest in conditions brought about by foreign oil competition. But no definite action has yet been taken on a petition issued to the Premier several weeks ago. It is stated, however, that support is being given to a movement by which the tariff on foreign oil will be raised to a point where consideration will be given to coal resuming as the most logical fuel. One press dispatch from Ottawa contained a speech made in the House, wherein mention was made of the coal interests now affected by this competition. Premier King has not committed himself to any statement, beyond sympathy and expressed willingness to do anything he consistently is able to do.

WINDOWS TEMPT HIM.

VANCOUVER, June 8.—James Stewart, veteran, started in the window cleaning business because work was scarce, but he has been obliged to quit. He claims he has an almost irresistible impulse to hurl himself from a high window every time he gets outside to do the cleaning, and he fears to carry on at this new line of effort. Medical men say this is not an uncommon impulse, and they say many unaccountable suicides undoubtedly come from this source.

SHOE DRESSING IS TONIC OF BRAVE.

WEST VANCOUVER, June 8.—After the beverages of a joyous potlatch had petered out, several braves from the reservation the other night went over to the city to hunt up further supplies to put a fitting finish to their orgy. One of their number drank a fluid used for glove and kid shoe dressing, containing a generous moiety of alcohol. He gave the name of Frank Joe. He will recover, although there was some doubt about it at first.

COAT TORN OFF IN RIDE ON ELEVATOR.

VANCOUVER, June 8.—Melville Gregory, broker, narrowly escaped a horrible death in an office elevator this week when he was caught in the wicket gate as he slipped in when the elevator started. The gate closed, catching part of his coat, and the elevator started to ascend. The garment was torn from his back and he was dragged with violence to the gate, but was uninjured.

CASES OF CRETINISM ARE REPORTED.

According to word that has been received in Victoria, several cases of cretinism have been reported. Altogether, it is said, there are five suspected cases in B. C. This is a disease common enough among children and adults in the Swiss cantons and Pyrenees, but is rare on this continent. Medical men say the cause is usually attributable to water conditions, although other causes are known. The sufferer becomes mentally deficient, is pocky and wobbly of gait, suffers from a wasting of flesh and bones, and passes into a general condition of atrophy. In the cretin districts of Switzerland it is not unusual to find many instances of cretinism in the same family, and many believe it is hereditary, but science discounts this theory. One case in Vancouver is interesting the medical fraternity. A local drugless healer asks to treat the case and claims to be able to affect restoration.

NO VEAL FOR THIS PRODIGAL.

VANCOUVER, June 8.—Upsetting the traditions of the Prodigal Son of old, Frederick V. Hopkins, a youth who is said to have decamped with the contents of his father's cash register, found no fattened calf awaiting his return when the money was all spent in a good time. In setting up claims of alleged misappropriated money by other people for whom the young man had worked before his flight, the father said he had given his son a sound whiting when he came back. Charges were dropped by payment of all delinquent amounts, with this further satisfactory explanation.

GHOST-PHOTOS IS FAD NOW.

VANCOUVER, June 8.—The startling apparition of photographs of the living, with their own wraiths standing beside them, is the latest fad here these days. It started during a controversy that sought to discredit Sir Conan Doyle's theories of spiritism through the medium of spirit photographs. As the controversy waxed warm, and a visiting spiritist of note adduced proofs in his lectures of spirit existence through the medium of photographs showing shadowy forms, R. J. Steffens, art photographer, came out with a published statement in a weekly review, proving that "spirit photos" were easy in photography. To prove his point he displayed a photo of himself seated, while a ghostly picture of himself in another pose stood hovering over him. It proved uncanny but convincing, and it started the ghost photo fad. Now men and women, and belles, are being photographed with their own "ghosts." The "ghost" photos are taken by some sort of double exposure system easy to the photographic craft.

COLORIED WOMEN ORGANIZE.

VANCOUVER, June 8.—Colored women, mostly employed in domestic service and laundries, have organized for protective rights and standardizing of pay. They call their association "The Sunflower Afro-Canadian Women's Club." About 80 members are enrolled. A new schedule of charges for house work and other service is established. The high cost of living is cited as one reason, while the by-laws also infer that many of the women have others dependent upon them for support—the latter meaning, it is unkindly intimated, husbands who are chronically workless.

SAVES NEGRO FROM NOOSE.

VANCOUVER, June 8.—Fleeing in affright from suspicion of being implicated in an assault upon two little girls in Texas, Chris Lapper, colored, former resident of Vancouver, arrived here two weeks ago and begged his friends to hide him. He produced proof that he was in a different place at the time of the crime. In the interests of humanity, several well known local men took the matter up. Lapper was about to be slipped over to the east when T. Guy Cornyn, a young barrister, adduced final proofs of the negro's innocence and dispatched them to Texas. In the meantime, another negro had been caught and confessed. A fund is being raised in Texas for Lapper, by way of atonement for an error that narrowly cost him his life at the end of a rope. A letter to Barrister Cornyn says: "We all make mistakes sometimes, as the proof looked clear against Lapper. But he was mistaken about the lynching. He was going to get a fair trial. We never lose our heads in lynching niggers in this part of the South."

CARRIE CONTRIBUTES TROPHIES.

VANCOUVER, June 8.—The latest contribution to the museum here is a collection of hatchets made famous by the late Carrie Nation in her destruction of saloon bars. Constable Theodore Croft donated one club that Mrs. Nation used at the Brandon Fair of 1884, when the militant goddess of the Drys whacked several bartenders with her trusty bludgeon and was later arrested for disturbing the peace.

CHAMELON SOCIETY CRAZE.

VANCOUVER, June 8.—Again the chamelon craze hits society here. The chamelon is a tiny insectiferous lizard that changes its color to fit the background of its immediate residence. It is uncannily intelligent and very beautiful. Some years ago these tiny lizards were worn with a fine chain on the breast of society women. Several women of the bon ton are now appearing with their pet chamelons, and they are now exhibited for sale in more than one store. These lizards are said to keep flies away, and relish them as a high delicacy.

BOYS FIND SKULL.

SOUTH VANCOUVER, June 8.—A human skull was found by Clare and Ralph Waters, two small boys, on a cliff near the beach a few days ago. No other bones were found. The age of the skull has not been determined, but dates back many years. It is believed it belonged to an Indian.

BEACH BELLES CHASE AGED BEAU.

ENGLISH BAY, June 8.—Angered by the persistent ogling and leers of an elderly individual on the beach, four comely young women in one-piece bathing suits seized him, ducked him in the water until he gasped for breath and chased him to the dressing tent with whacks with kelp roots on the beach. A crowd of highly entertained and cheering bathers watched the flight of the discomfited satyr.

VANCOUVER, June 8.—Here is the very latest, and it has its start in English Bay—log watches for ladies. It is now quite a common thing to see a little watch, in a sort of bracelet, adorning a shapely limb, below or above the knee. Local jewelers are alive to the fad with specially designed "water-proof watches for bathing."

REVIEW STAFF'S HOLIDAY

Editor Has Trouble With That Bleeming Postage Stamp; More Trouble on the Boat; He Visits Stanley Park; Gets on the Wrong Car; Mrs. Editor Very Absent-Minded

It is not my intention to give a full account of our recent holiday. It would take up too much space. Many things happened, and a good many more might have happened if the other two-thirds of the staff had not been along.

When we started out the day was fine and warm, and our hearts were glad that we were off for a few days to enjoy ourselves. Everything was lovely until we arrived at the C. P. R. ticket office on Belleville street. I, being the custodian of the family plate, marched up to the wicket and asked for two tickets, Vancouver and return. I reached for our "roll," which had been done up in a perfectly good three-cent stamp—it was gone! I searched every pocket, but without result. The ticket man looked me over, and put the tickets to one side. Of course there were a number of people wanting tickets, so I made way for them, and we went outside.

"Have you no idea where you put the money?" asked my better half. "What in the world are we going to do now?"

I replied that if I had any idea what had become of it, I would certainly go and get it and end our worry.

We sat down on the steps in front of the ticket office and did some deep thinking. People walked on my ties, knocked my hat off and generally tramped on me, but I didn't care. Let 'em walk on me if they liked. I took out my trusty pipe, filled it with my special Havana de Cabbage tobacco, opened my match box—

"I've got it! I've got it!" I yelled, in my excitement.

My wife grabbed me, held me tight, and asked "What in the world have you got now. What is the matter with you, anyway?"

I heard a man near-by remark that I certainly had it, and he would like to know where I got it.

"Why," I said, "the money. I had put it in my match box for safe-keeping."

I made a mad rush for the ticket office, got the tickets, and we made a record run for the boat.

The caustic remarks made by my better half after we got on the boat were certainly worth hearing, but I much prefer not to repeat them. Mrs. F. took charge of the funds from then on. I was never misplaced again, but once in a while there was some little delay. When we arrived home the stamp was mutilated beyond repair, and we wished we had used a one-cent instead of a three-cent one.

We picked out a nice warm corner on the boat and gave ourselves up to enjoying the scenery. The motion of the steamer, and the soft summer-like breeze made me drowsy, but Mrs. F. took a walk around the boat to see if there was anyone she knew on board. She had no sooner left me than an individual came up and took the vacant chair. I glanced at him several times, but said nothing.

"Are you a married man or a Swede?" This is the question he asked, without any preliminary remarks.

"I—I beg your pardon?" I replied, wondering when he had escaped.

"I just asked you whether you are a married man or a Swede," he said, and he leaned toward me as if to get a better look at my classic Roman features.

"My dear sir," I replied, "I haven't the slightest idea of what you are driving at, but I will tell you that I am a married man."

"Oh, it's all right," he said. "I guess you don't belong to the same lodge that I do," and he walked away. I wondered why in the world they didn't keep him locked up. He had been gone only a short time when a very handsome young lady came over and sat down beside me.

"Well, Jack, don't you know me?"

"My dear young lady!" I exclaimed, "did you speak to me?" I had about made up my mind that the whole bleeming boat was full of lunatics. Here I was out for a holiday, and a lot of idiots commenced to bother me. The young lady seemed to be quite sane, and she certainly was good to look at. I could see her eyes fill with tears as I replied to her question. She seemed to be in trouble.

"Why, Jack, don't you know me!" she cried, throwing her arms about my neck and looking up into my eyes, smiling. "You are only trying to tease me, Jack. You know your own Gwendoline, don't you?"

I certainly did not know Gwendoline, and I told her so. Gee! If my wife came along just then, there would be about seven different kinds of trouble in our happy home, and the Review—well, it would not be published for several weeks!

I tried to take Gwendoline's arms from around my neck, but the more I tried, the tighter she clung to me. It was a most embarrassing position.

"My dear, do you intend to go on to Seattle, or do we get off here?" It was Mrs. F. speaking. I had been sound asleep ever since we got on the boat.

The morning after arriving in Vancouver, I made up my mind to take a good long walk and see some of the city. Mrs. F. decided that she would remain at home with the friends we were visiting, so I started out alone. I decided to walk out to Stanley Park, a place I had not visited for a number of years. I asked a policeman the direction to the park, and he said "Follow your nose and you will get there." There was nothing very definite about that, but I continued my walk.

Had not gone more than a couple of blocks when a horse attached to a milk wagon came rushing madly down the street, distributing milk cans and milk in a promiscuous manner. Several people had gathered to see the finish. Milk was running in little streams all over the pavement, and as I stood there I voiced my sentiments:

"What a waste!" I said to a man standing near-by.

I had no sooner said it than a lady in front of me turned and snapped out: "I'll call a policeman if you pass any more insulting remarks."

I made an effort to explain to the lady that I was not speaking of her ample proportions, but she walked away, highly indignant.

After this episode I continued my walk, and in about an hour's time I saw a sign "Park Here," so concluded I had arrived. I was surprised at the number of industrial establishments in the vicinity of the park, but concluded that Vancouver had grown so rapidly that all available space was being utilized. On top of one of the buildings I could see the word "Canada." It struck me as funny that they had that sign on buildings around the park, but then it occurred to me that perhaps it was for the benefit of the tourists.

I had always wanted to visit the zoo at Stanley Park, and so made my way into an office which looked like the headquarters of the Park manager. A young gentleman came up to the counter in a breezy kind of way and asked:

"Well, what'll you have?"

"A little Scotch," I replied, being taken completely off my guard. I could see immediately that I had made a mistake.

"I beg your pardon, sir. What did you say?"

"Can you tell me where they keep the animals?" I asked, a little nervously.

This question seemed to cause some commotion among the staff in the office. The young man looked at me sharply and repeated my question in a hushed voice. "Can you tell me where they keep the animals?" He seemed to be quite rattled. I was commencing to think that there was something wrong somewhere, when he spoke—

"Just a minute, sir," and he made his way to a door labelled "Manager." He was inside for a couple of minutes, and when he returned he was accompanied by an elderly man. The latter came up to me and asked me what I wanted.

"I just want to have a look at the animals," I replied, and I have asked the young gentleman to direct me to the building.

"When did you escape—er—I mean when did you arrive in town?" he asked, looking at me in a peculiar manner.

I told him I had arrived the night before, but for the life of me I could not see what he was driving at.

"What is your name?"

I told him. Had to spell it about a dozen times for him.

"Where are you stopping?" I gave him that information, but it was hard for me to control my voice. I never had such a time getting into a park in all my life.

"How did you know this was Stanley Park?" was his next question, making notes of my replies.

"Why," I said, "there is a sign out there which says 'Park here.'"

That answer seemed to make him catch his breath and grip the counter.

"Just a minute, Mr. Forneri," he said, as he excused himself to answer the phone. By this time I was getting pretty warm under the collar, and had about made up my mind to quit that establishment of lunatics, when the elderly gentleman came up to me, smiling.

"It's all right, Mr. Forneri," he said, but the animals are all sick today and must not be disturbed. I have just had a phone message from Mrs. Forneri that you are wanted at home. Just wait a moment, and I will give you a note to Mrs. Forneri, who is an old friend of mine."

That certainly was a surprise. My better half had never said anything to me about knowing the park keeper. In a minute or two he returned from his private office, with the note, which he had placed in an envelope. I immediately started for me, and arrived there just in time for lunch. I said nothing about the note till after we had gone to our room after lunch. Then I wanted an explanation.

"My dear, do you know any of the officials at Stanley Park?" I asked her.

"No, dear, I do not. Why do you ask?"

I handed her the note. "That was given to me by a friend of yours this morning after you had phoned to the park for me to come home."

"I never phoned to you this morning. I don't know what you are talking about. Where did you go this morning, anyway?"

"I took a stroll out to Stanley Park," I replied, but she evidently did not hear me, as she was reading the note. Suddenly, she seemed to wilt and fall all in a heap in a chair. She ran her hands through her hair, her hands twitched, and her eyes stuck out. Finally, she gave a leap, let the note fall from her hand and started

The Review

A lot of people are beginning to realize, is a newspaper that would do credit to a district having a far bigger population of enthusiastic people than the one which it covers. Of the very large number of weekly newspapers now published in the West it is doubtful that many, if any, publish the same amount of interesting and up-to-date reading matter as is found in these columns.

While it is almost impossible to obtain all the news of this large district, we are certain that we, through our large circle of excellent correspondents, obtain a very large proportion of it.

Our subscription price is only per year and new subscribers are constantly being put on the list. In fact nearly all our entire issue is taken up with our list and consequently many people, who wish to buy a paper, are disappointed when we tell them that we are "sold out".

Therefore if your name is not on our list make up your mind to subscribe to the paper that you are most interested and that publishes the most news of the district in which you live.

By the way don't you think that some relative or friend of yours would like to receive The Review for

ABOUT THAT NEW TAX.

When nearly everyone agree, with perfect amity, upon a common idea, the inference is logically plain that much truth animates the agreement. This applies to the general opinion about that new tax law. Few taxpayers can say that it is equitable, well poised, intelligently adapted or bearing any semblance at all to the fitness of things. It stands plainly as a reproach to the intelligence of law-makers whose sagacity is absent in the forming of laws that are out of all reason in many ways. The new tax laws appeal to many as being slipshod, unjust, lopsided and illogical. With so many other ways of raising public revenues, and with an almost limitless field of accumulating public money, the law-makers of the new taxation have displayed shortsightedness and vacuous disregard for horse sense. Some day, perhaps, when the Millennium comes, we may see taxation adapted to a nicety where it belongs. But in the meantime, so long as law-makers can see no further than the nose on their faces, the plain people and the small business men will have to grin and bear it, every time some new freak law is enacted for the raising of public money.

O, tempore! O, mores! O, Bosh!

"FINANCIAL SUCCOR" IS RIGHT.

A few months ago, a crew of sleek and slick stock salesmen from the States toured the province, selling stock in an oil company in New Mexico. Many invested and have been waiting for dividends ever since. Many of the investors were poor people. Some were veterans who were induced to disgorge their pension money, but that made no difference to the glib stock salesmen who received 50 per cent commission. Nothing has been heard of the proposition since. But now comes along a follow-up letter to investors, saying the oil well is getting along nicely, is now down to a depth of 30 many hundred or thousand feet, and everything is fine and dandy. But more money is needed to save the well from stopping by lack of funds. Hence, says the multityped letter, it is proposed to raise an assessment upon all investors, and the assurance is solemnly made that a little timely financial succor at this hour will save the original investment.

"Financial succor" is right! Only it should not be spelled that way.

PRICES AGAIN TENDING UPWARD.

An upward trend in price movement is now distinctly visible the world over, says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York. The "price index figures" as now compiled by the statisticians of the various countries of the world have for the past two or three months hinted strongly at higher prices. The index number worked out by the Federal Reserve Board with reference to the United States, compiled from 100 wholesale price quotations for representative commodities, showed for "consumers goods" in the month of March, 1922, 154 against 150 in January; for raw materials 147 against 141 in January; for exports 144 against 139 in January; and for imports 111 against 110 in January and for the entire group a figure of 147 in March, 1922, against 142 in January.

The same authority worked out the British prices by the same process, based upon 95 wholesale price quotations in April, 1922, producing a British index number of 183 for "consumers' goods" in April, 1922, as against 181 in January and February, 1922.

For France, the Statistical Bureau of that country states the index number, based upon wholesale prices of a large number of articles, at 302.6 in April, 1922, against 354.2 in February.

For Germany the index number of the Frankfurter Zeitung stands at 585 for May, 1922, as against 317 in January and 352 in February, 1923.

In Netherlands, the wholesale prices as supplied by the American Consul in Rotterdam show an index number of 162 in March, 1922, as against 161 in January.

For India, the index number worked out by local authorities and transmitted by the American Consul stands at 182 in March, 1922, against 175 in January.

In Japan, the index figure, supplied by the Bank of Japan, stands at 201 in March, 1922, against 199 in August, 1921, and 191 in March of last year.

From each ton of oil shale rock mined in Scotland and France, 22 gallons of petroleum are distilled. The American oil shale is somewhat different and is richer, giving generally 40 gallons per ton.

IDLE THOUGHTS

High School girls of the Coast are entering into pact to wear dresses costing less than $15. Some of them have dads who wear window-pane patches on their pants and whose 1916 season suits would not assay 75c at a forced sale of a junk specialist.

Victoria man vows he has seen "an unaccountably strange marine creature that seems part jelly fish and part octopus." Of course, we can't say for sure, but we have our own opinion about this.

The new poll tax Act seeks to define "employer." Some employers we know could define it with one word beginning with "h."

The bestowal of Royal birthday honors last Saturday interested us, but we wonder when His Majesty will be able to get around and bestow a decoration upon the busy, harrassed country editor of B. C. Knight Commander of the Case, or Companion of the Lino would suit us—that is, if we don't have to go to any extra expense buying knee breeches of velvet.

Hope there is not going to be any tax on money that we can't collect.

FREE SEED TESTS.

Farmers and seed merchants will be gratified to learn that the Dominion Minister of Agriculture has determined to restore the privilege of having seed tested at the government laboratories free of charge to the extent of ten samples from each applicant. This free privilege covers a period extending from the first day of May in one year to the last day of January in the succeeding year. During the months of February, March and April a fee of fifty cents for each test will continue to be made owing to the congestion that usually occurs at that period due to the testing of trade samples, and samples submitted by seed inspectors under the Seed Control Act.

While the free privilege is open to all the vitality of seed can be readily ascertained by farmers and others by planting a hundred or two hundred grains in a flower pot or box of soil, which is kept moist, but not wet, and the pot or box placed in a sunny window, but not subjected to either excessive heat or cold.

Laboratories for seed investigation, conducted by the Seed Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, are established at Ottawa, Winnipeg and Calgary.

OPTIMISTIC REPORTS FROM SASKATCHEWAN.

All the wheat which Saskatchewan farmers will seed this year is now in the ground and the feeling of uneasiness and pessimism which attended the period of heavy rains during the first half of May, is gradually being dispersed by the excellent growing weather prevailing in all parts of the province.

Preliminary surveys of the situation made by The Financial Post correspondent, indicate that of the 13,500,000 acres designated for wheat-growing at the commencement of the season, from 85 to 90 per cent has actually been seeded. The remainder will be used for oats, flax and barley, crops which require less time to mature. Government reports are authority for the decrease in the acreage and although the figures are necessarily more or less indefinite, it seems reasonable to place the area under wheat in Saskatchewan this year at approximately the same as in 1921.

Information secured by the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company from its 300 odd branches in the province are most encouraging. Growing conditions are declared to be even better than early last year. Even with 1,300,000 acres less under cultivation for wheat than was expected, a very large increase over the yields secured last year may reasonably be expected with the continuance of these favorable weather conditions. Farmers from all sections, with the exception of the extreme northeast, state that there are such large reserves of moisture in the soil that rain will not be necessary before June 15 to June 30.

EUROPEAN CROP NOT SATISFACTORY.

Reports received by the U. S. Department of Commerce from commercial attaches in Europe do not indicate a good crop outlook. German crops are not promising, prospects being less than a year ago. No grains are reported in more than fair condition. Much of the winter sowing was frozen, and spring plowing is late in all parts of Germany. Agricultural labor is scarce.

French crops are not as good as a year ago, but situation is not discouraging. Perhaps 1,500,000,000 francs must be spent abroad this year to make up the deficit between domestic consumption and production of what—Financial Post.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The Canadian Pacific Railway reports gross earnings for the third week of May amounting to $2,997,000, as compared with $3,069,000 for the corresponding period in 1921, a decrease of $72,000, or 2.3 per cent.

Earnings of the Canadian National Railways for the week ending May 21, amounting to $2,218,892, compared with $1,915,301, an increase of $303,590, or 15.8 per cent.

The Grand Trunk Railway shows earnings amounting to $1,882,109, a decrease of $17,611, or .9 per cent.

The Swiss government expects to spend 57,000,000 francs this year in extending the electrification of its railways.

BOY SCOUTS

Last week we had a very successful paper chase, the hares being caught after a two hours' run.

The following boys passed their Tenderfoot test last week and were enrolled: Allen Moore, Donald McDonald and Ernest Livesay.

The Troop will meet tonight, in uniform, at 7 o'clock.

Will Reside at Ganges Harbor

(Review Correspondent)

GANGES, June 6.—Mr. P. J. Gannon was married on May 30, to Miss Eunice Ayers at the home of Mrs. J. C. McNeill, Victoria. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas McConnell. The young couple will make their home at "Fruitvale," Ganges. Their numerous friends join in wishing them much joy and prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans and little daughter, Daisy, have returned from Duncan, where Mr. Evans has had charge of Mrs. Doering's ranch, and have taken Mr. D. S. Harris' place, where he intends to go in for pure-bred stock.

Mr. Arthur Drake and Mr. R. Rankin visited De Maine's lake and between them caught five or six fine trout, the largest of which is almost four pounds in weight. Congratulations to these fishermen. It would now seem certain that the "jinks" is off and fish can be caught in this lake.

Among the guests at "Harbor House," Ganges, this week, are Mr. and Mrs. Scott Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Leyton and baby.

Major Godfrey, of the Soldier Settlement Board, was a visitor to Salt Spring this week.

Miss Nye is visiting friends at Ganges.

The "Grainer" called with a cargo of feed this week for Mouat Bros Co., Ltd.

A quiet wedding took place this week at South Salt Spring, when Miss Phyllis James was united in marriage to Mr. E. Lee. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Stoodley, and after a wedding breakfast the young couple left on their honeymoon trip. Miss James is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. James. We wish the young couple every happiness.

The James boys now have their fast motor boat, the "Red Devil," in good running order.

Standing of Scholars

Following is the standing of the scholars in the Ganges school, the names being in order of merit:

New Items From Mayne Island

(Review Correspondent.)

MAYNE ISLAND, June 6.—Mrs. Hill left for Victoria with Mrs. Russell last Friday. Mrs. Hill has been ill for the past six weeks, and we hope the change of air will be beneficial to her.

Mrs. Hunter, with her baby daughter, visited the island on a business call last Saturday.

Mr. Dalton Deacon is having a new barn built by contract. Six men a boss and lady cook arrived last Monday. We hear this lady chef is a connoisseur in the art of building pies and cakes.

Dr. Kinnard returned to Mayne Island Friday.

Mr. Donald New paid a short visit to Mayne Island, staying long enough to grab two ice creams. Last Wednesday.

Mrs. George Maude left for a short visit to Vancouver last Monday.

Next Sunday being Trinity Sunday morning prayer and Holy Communion at St. Mary's, Mayne Island, at 11 a.m.

Quots at Active Pass Tennis Club were Mrs. Locke Paddon, Mrs. Guernsey, Mrs. Sandford and the Rev. P. Price.

Mrs. Bellhouse and Miss P. Bellhouse visited Mayne Island on Friday evening.

On Saturday evening the chair practice took place at Point Comfort.

Mr. Andrews left on the "Alice May" after spending several days with his friends, Capt. and Mrs. Guernsey.

Mrs. Emery returned home Wednesday.

It is unlikely that Admiral Packman, commander-in-chief of the British North American Squadron will visit these waters this summer.

With great regret many Islanders will have seen the notice of Mrs. Maud's death, which occurred suddenly in Santa Barbara on June 1.

Mrs. Madd visited Mayne Island many years ago, and was a resident of Salt Spring Island for some years. Bathing has commenced, but the water is very cold at present.

REVIEW OF CALGARY MARKET

(From Market Examiner, Calgary)

CATTLE

CALGARY, June 1.—Beef prices at Calgary are firm for the week ending June 1, with a couple of loads topping the market at $7.50, but choice cattle generally $6.50@7.15; good butchers, $5.75@6.50; common and medium steers, $5.50 down; and most of the medium kind going as feeders at $4@5, while stocker steers bring $3@4. Choice cows making better prices at $5@5.50; good, $4@4.75; medium, $3.25@4; common, $2@3; canners, 50c@1.75; choice heifers make up to $6.50. Not many bulls, but choice heavy at $3.50, and medium and common, $1.50@2.50. Calves will make a top of $8, with common $3@6. Stocker heifers, $2.50@3.50. Stock cows, $1.50@3.

HOGS

Calgary receipts moderate, and prices Wednesday made $12.50@12.75; Thursday's sales at $12.75@12.85.

SHEEP

Calgary receipts light, but choice lambs still bring $12; ewes, $6@8; wethers, $8@9.

GRAIN

Wheat markets are weakening badly, and after the May contracts had been so readily filled, the market during the past few days has been especially bad. This condition is assisted by the favorable crop news on the continent. Alberta conditions are beginning to cause a little anxiety in some parts owing to lack of moisture, though nobody is hurt much yet. Manitoba and Saskatchewan have good reports.

PRODUCE

Butterfat prices at Calgary today dropped to 30c, 27c, 24c and 21c, the latter being for off grade cream; receipts increasing, and butter production costs must be lowered. Saskatchewan and Manitoba underselling Alberta butter in Vancouver, and this province far out of line with Montreal, where 30 1/4 c is paid. Cartons came down today to 35c for No. 1; no carlot price quoted under new cost. Dairy butter due for decline, with fancy table 23c@25c; No. 1, 21@22c; No. 2, 19@20c; No. 3, 15@16c; looks like a poor market for dairy. Eggs, extras and firsts, advanced to 27@29c, and 23@25c; No. 2 reduced to 17c; cracks, 10c; trade getting too many No. 2 eggs. Poultry flocks now being culled, and some hens and old roosters coming in; live fowl, 13@15c; dressed fowl, 20@22c. No reliable quotation on potatoes. Take any price you can get to clear.

HAY

Demand very slow; dealers paying $15@21, according to shipping point, on upland.

HIDES

Prices unchanged, but dealers able to make sales on present levels; green salted butchers, 3c; calf, 5c; kip, 3@4c.

FURS

Dealers reporting market healthy at present prices

WOOL

Buyers are now negotiating for western clip, likely to secure more this year than previously. No definite prices yet.

Rude Rural Rhymes

WHILE WE LIVE

He had the proper hunch who said that we shall be a long time dead. Let's seize the minute and the hour and work therein with greater power. Have I some sin that calls for smothering? Let me arise and start to bashing. O, let me bust that serpent's head, for I shall be a long time dead. Can I assist some weary soul who sees far off a hopeless goal? May I be ever friendly found; I'll be a long time under ground. Have I a wife or fiancée? O let me love her day by day, do lots of courting, lots of gissing, for I shall be a long time missing. Yea, let me fall not here on earth to seize whoever joys have worth, yet keep my duty clear before me; the earth will rest a long time o'er me. On some good day no longer mortal, I hope to pass through Peter's portal. I hope my head a crown will wear to hide the spots that have no hair, but let me see before I go my job well finished here below. I will not care, my tasks well sped, e'en though I am a long time dead.

—BOB ADAMS.

WORTH REMEMBERING

Wrap cheese in a cloth moistened with cold vinegar. This will prevent it from becoming dry or mouldy.

A cracked egg can be successfully boiled if wrapped in wax tissue or thin paper before placing it in the water.

Dried fruits should be scalded to kill any germs. After scalding the fruit should be washed thoroughly and then dried and stored in sterile glass jars ready for use.

REVIEW STAFF'S HOLIDAY

at me with her mouth open. After a minute of awful silence she asked me, in a hushed voice:

"Where did you say you had been this morning?"

"Stanley Park."

"How did you get there?"

"I walked. What in the world is wrong with everybody? They asked me a lot of silly questions at the Park. What's the idea?"

"Do you feel all right, dear?" my better half asked, in a sympathetic voice. I told her I never felt better.

"Don't you think you had better lie down for awhile and rest? Are you sure you did not get into one of those clubs there have here in Vancouver? Come over here near the window and let me look at you."

I refused to budge. I was sore. Finally, Mrs. F. handed me the note, but said nothing. It follows:

"Dear Madame—If you are the owner of the individual who will give you this note, I would suggest that you hire a guardian for him. He came into our office this morning and asked to see the animals. My dear madame, we have no animals here. He said he saw the sign 'Park here' alongside our building. He evidently did not read all of the sign, as it says 'Cars Park Here.' He said he saw the sign 'Canada' on the top of our building. There is such a sign, my dear madame, but it is 'Canada Metal Company.' No, madame, we have no animals here—nothing but metal. When the clerk asked him what he wanted this morning, he replied 'A little Scotch.' We have no Scotch, and we have no animals—we only deal in M-E-T-A-L—metal, madame. If the idiot comes around here again, we shall certainly feel it our duty to see that he is placed in the proper institution. Yours truly, Manager."

So that was the reason why they had asked me all those questions. How was I to know it was not a part of the park. The policeman told me to follow my nose and I did so. I suppose I must have turned a corner somewhere.

The other two-thirds of the staff kept a pretty good watch on me for a day or two, but must have finally come to the conclusion that I was all right again, because I was allowed more or less freedom.

The day before we came home we decided to visit some friends at the other end of the city. We got a transfer and boarded the next car that came along, but found out we were on the wrong car, so had to walk back about a block. When the next car came along we got in, but not before I had fallen up the steps and taken about a yard of skin off my shins, had my hat knocked off and generally mussed up. Mrs. F. had gone on to the front of the car and sat down. I came along, remarking about the "blinkety-blink cars," etc. when a clerical-looking gentleman touched me on the shoulder and remarked:

"My friend, do you know you are on the road to hell?"

Somehow I was not surprised to see him on the car, but I did not wait to answer him. I rushed to the front of the car and told Mrs. F. we were on the wrong train again. But she would not move. She said she was certain we were on the right car, and she was going to stay on it.

"O, all right," I remarked. "I'm game. I'll go too. We might as well see everything Vancouver has to offer." At the same time I made up my mind to have a look at the wedding ceremony again when I got home, to see if it said anything about a man following his wife to such a place.

"Why do you say we are on the wrong car? I can't understand you these days. What is the matter with you, anyway?"

I explained that I had been making a few unprintable remarks about the cars, and what the clerical-looking gentleman had said.

"Why, you funny, he meant that you were bound for that place on account of the horrible language you were using. For goodness sake keep near me, and don't move. What a blessing it will be when we get home again. I will be down with nervous prostration if this keeps up much longer."

We had no more trouble. We arrived in Victoria safe and sound, and got aboard the stage. On the way home to Sidney, a lady passenger offered Mrs. F. a perfectly good five-dollar bill in payment of a small account. My better half very absent-mindedly remarked to her that it would do some other time. I whispered to her that I thought we would need it to pay our fare, so she changed her mind. Mrs. F. is a very absent-minded sometimes, very.

We arrived home, anyway.

News Items From Keating

(Review Correspondent.)

KEATING—Some time ago the Junior Institute Club decided to have a tennis court this summer, and Saturday night, May 20, the W. I. were joint hostesses with the girls and held a card party in the hall, the proceeds going to the club. First prize was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lawrie, Mr. J. H. Sutton and Tom Michell. The booby prize was carried off by Miss Margaret Michell, Miss Florence Hoffer, Willard Michell and Albert Hoffer.

The W. I. recently entertained the members of the Farmers' Institute and their friends to a social evening in the hall. As it was the regular meeting of both institutes, the programme did not commence until 10.30, but from that time until its close every item was well put on and heartily received by the large number of guests. Mr. J. H. Sutton, president of the W. I., occupied the chair. Musical arms was the novel way in which one obtained their partners to do justice to the delicious lunch served by the ladies.

Not Satisfying to the Public

(From the Financial Post)

If the decision in the Macarow case is justified according to the facts, a heavy blow has been struck at the Banking Act of Canada as passed in 1913 and since in force.

For the first time the public are faced with this possibility: a strong bank can be wrecked over a period of years; monthly returns can be submitted to the Minister of Finance that do not contain even an inkling of losses that ran close to $9,000,000, and perhaps to $13,000,000, and no one who signed or prepared these returns is guilty even of negligence! These colossal losses can be concealed by juggling with classifications—under the Bank Act that now adorns the statute books! The people now suspect that a bank can be looted and no one be held to account.

Whether that, or the acquittal of the late general manager on his preliminary trial, was utterly unjustified.

Which conclusion is correct?

The bewildered public must learn, and learn soon.

That is one aspect of Judge Cusson's decision.

There is another, equally important. If it should turn out to be possible for a bank to be wrecked as the Merchants was, and the "returns" to the Government prove utterly worthless as a means of detecting the presence of the dissipation of millions of its funds, there still remain the questions to be solved: Who wrecked the bank? Who were aware it was being driven on to its destruction? What weakness lies in the present form of shareholders' audit that made it utterly worthless in the present case?

The late investigation in the Montreal court sounded a good deal like a comic opera: Nobody knew anything about anything. It almost appeared as if a conspiracy of ignorance was on foot. Nobody dared believe that the real facts were disclosed. The whole thing hinged finally on a maze of legal argument and technical explanations or quibbling.

Something must be done. A further legal inquiry seems impractical, certainly under the same charge. A Parliamentary Committee is possible. A Royal Commission appointed by the Government seems the best solution; a commission that can make a searching investigation without being curtailed by strangling technical limitations.

Thus, and only thus, can the facts be dragged out, and the guilty be punished if there are those guilty under the law; and flaws in the Bank Act itself be held up to an X-ray, for the court decision—if a justifiable one—seems to riddle it.

The whole case is admittedly an extraordinary one; a bank wrecked by incompetency it would appear. In past cases, usually some form of defalcation has been the underlying factor behind the falsifying of returns, and the evidence of such falsification was not far to seek. Here there is no evidence of a criminal act, as usually understood, on the part of any one. Hence the intricacies are not so obvious; the mysteries of this bank disaster still stand unrevealed.

Democratic peoples have a brutal way at times in dealing with their servants when they believe that there has been a miscarriage of justice. When they feel that a bank can be looted and no one held to account they are likely to demand drastic action. This is an unfortunate situation with the Bank Act coming up for revision. Not only will public opinion demand changes but the people will not be inclined to be very gentle in their methods and an opportunity will be provided for the introduction of radical suggestions, which may easily undermine the financial stability of the country.

In view of the Merchants fiasco impetus has been unfortunately given to the movement for government banks which such the public as those which have been placed on the banks by the Finance Minister will naturally prove popular with the public.

Investors too are always chary of stocks in institutions which can evidently be looted without going to jail. Bank shares have not been popular since the Merchants failure was announced. The prices of these stocks have failed to reflect the general improvement in the investment situation in evidence during the past six months.

Central Bank is Suggested.

The Merchants Bank case should result in serious consideration being given to the establishment of a central bank in Canada, somewhat on the basis of the Federal Reserve Bank of the United States. It seems clear that the clause in the Bank Act that empowers the Minister of Finance at Ottawa to conduct an investigation into the affairs of any bank that he has reasons to suspect of any signal weakness has fallen down. The heavy losses in the Thornton Davidson case were notoriously public property at the time of the failure of that firm in July, 1920. That was the time when the Finance Department reasonably should have held a special investigation to determine the actual losses sustained by the Merchants Bank. Such an investigation might at least have revealed conditions of other losses as at that date and prevented these from increasing as they appear to have done even after that date. A thorough reorganization of the Bank probably would have followed, and its final wiping out might have been averted.

A central bank would exercise that supervision over all the present chartered banks in Canada that is done by the Federal Reserve Bank in the United States over every bank whose paper it discounts. The Bank of England and the Bank of France perform a similar supervisory function. The law gives them no such authority, but the penalty of a refusal of a bank to permit such an investigation is obvious. Hence a central banking organization in Canada, it is believed, would detect cases of incompetency and low-grade banking practices, and by an immediate investigation, as these cropped up in their relations with individual banks, make it impossible to carry them on for any length of time. There are other advantages of a central or reserve bank for this country but the Merchants Bank fiasco points to a very real and pressing need in one direction.

OUR WEEKLY EYE TALK

Conducted, Specially For This Paper, by Dr. A. McKay Jordan, of Vancouver.

NOTE—This is the first of a series of articles by one of the foremost optical scientists of the continent. Dr. Jordan is known widely as a kineologist, scientist and author of many erudite works, in addition to being a lecturer of whom the daily press has had much to say.—Ed.

By way of a preface to a series of eye-talks that will prove invaluable to all, I would prepare the reader to expect an unusual array of facts that are unlike, quite, anything that has ever appeared in print. The proof is irrefutable. I defy criticism and have established the absolute truth of these statements on the public platform and in the press for years. In this connection, it may be mentioned that I was offered the lectureship of the state of California by the Optical Society, and have been otherwise honored and recognized from coast to coast.

To begin with, I will state, the human eye is the only part of the brain that has been pushed through the skull for the specific purpose of intercepting energy given off by bodies by which the brain is enabled to weigh, measure and compare all phenomena within a radius of our visual perception. When it is considered that little or no knowledge now possessed by the human race would be possible, were it not for this wonderful eye mechanism, it is incumbent upon every individual to ascertain as early in life as possible whether or not this important part of the brain is normally functioning.

No parent or other individual can possibly judge the normal function capacity of this organ, and therefore are not in a position to pass judgment upon the condition of their own eyes or the eyes of another, unless they have been specially trained for this purpose. Every child, as shortly after birth as possible, should undergo eye examination by a specialist qualified to make such an examination. And, if found necessary, glasses should be supplied and worn constantly, in order that the child may develop, normally, both mentally and physically. Countless priceless lives have been wrecked, mentally, morally and physically, by neglect of eyes in childhood. Our prisons are filled by human weeds who merked into moral turpitude simply because of this cause. Our insane asylums are filled with eye-victims, although nobody remotely guesses the cause. Our bread lines are filled with unhappy men who became human misfits because they have tried to worry along striving for 100 per cent with 30 per cent vision. Any older person that wears glasses may test this by laying aside the glasses for a week or two and then noting the condition.

I am not an alarmist, but will bare startling facts from week to week in this good paper—facts that are deplorable but only too true. Read them. Write me on any question you like. I will gladly give you advice. There will be no charge. My address is Vancouver block, Vancouver.

If you have a competent local optometrist, by all means consult him, but take this warning to heart—don't neglect your eyes, and see to it that your children have a square deal with perfect eyes.

BRIEF B. C. NOTES

Minimum Wage Board fixes $14 a week as minimum wages for berry pickers and other workers of the kind. Inexperienced hands may receive less.

Martin Hopper, aged 77, resident of Vancouver, was married this week to Mrs. Abigail Brewster, Seattle widow, aged 66. She was his sweetheart of half a century ago. Since then both have wedded twice and raised large families.

Producers' Exchange will handle all Chilliwack products this season.

Two dogs, worth more than $200 each, and both blue ribboners, fought to death on a west end lawn at Vancouver this week. Residents, aroused by their ferocious barks, found both canines dying when they arrived. One was an Airedale, the other was an Irish setter. The latter belonged to Col. P. T. H. Younghusband. The Airedale was the property of Frances L. Boon, realty broker.

Druggists' Association of B. C. are elated by Royal recognition of a fellow bloodless surgeon, who has been knitted in the recent birthday honors. He is Sir Herbert Atkinson Barker, whose methods have never been recognized by the regular medical fraternity. Felicitations and a testimonial are being prepared for the new knight by B. JOB PRINTING

We are in a position to handle job work in a satisfactory manner, and will appreciate any orders received. The Review plant is well equipped in every way, being the largest and most up-to-date of any found in a town the size of Sidney. We have added considerable equipment to the Review plant during the past year or so in order to be in a position to successfully handle anything that may be placed in our hands in the commercial job printing line. The Review has had splendid support in this direction, and this fact is very much appreciated. If at any time our customers are not satisfied we hope they will tell us so, and we will endeavor to make it right. We go on the principal that only the very best work is wanted by our many customers, and we endeavor to give them what they want. To those who have printing to be done, we ask them to give us a chance to do it. We feel sure that our prices will be found reasonable, consistent with good workmanship.

Big Day at Mayne Island

(Review Correspondent)
(Too late for last week)

MAYNE ISLAND, May 30.—The Rev. C. B. Price arrived on Mayne Island on Saturday to take up his duties as vicar of St. Mary Magdalene Church. He relieves Canon Paddon, who has been in charge of this parish for the past twenty-five years. Though we extend a warm welcome to our new vicar, many of us have great regret at Canon Paddon's resignation, who has so faithfully administered to us the rites of the Church. Mr. Price is a Dublin University man. He served under Holy Orders for three years in Ireland, then took up a parish in Manitoba, where he lived for eight years. Mr. Price is a nephew of Dr. Price who, before his retirement, was health inspector for Victoria.

Mr. Emery has improvements in the recreation grounds going on in full swing under Mr. Spirall's supervision. Quite a large pavilion is being erected, which will hold 200 people.

Mr. W. Defty is assisting Mr. Emery in the store.

Victoria Day was well celebrated on Mayne Island, many Islanders coming from far and wide. The day was bright and clear and not too hot. We have to congratulate the sports committee on the arrangement of the sports, which were carried out so admirably and kept up to schedule time. Mrs. George Maude presented the prizes to the various winners, at the same time making a few complimentary remarks to each.

The committee consisted of Messrs. Hill, MacDonald, J. Burrill, J. Bennett, J. Robson, B. Emery, R. Hall, G. A. Maude and A. Georgeson.

Mr. H. D. Payne, of Saturna, acted as judge of races, Capt. Maude as judge of the water sports, and Mrs. G. A. Maude as secretary.

The winners in the various events were as follows:

Foot Races
Girls under 12—1, Patricia McFadden, Salt Spring Island; 2, Louise Newman, Mayne Island; 3, Annie Sumi, Mayne.

Girls under 16—1, Esther Defty, Saturna; 2, Bunt York, Galliano; 3, Hilde Wood, Salt Spring.

Three-legged race for girls—1, Margaret Payne and Patricia McFadden, Saturna; 2, Louise Newman and Annie Sumi, Mayne; 3, Doris Robson and Esther Defty, Mayne.

Thread and needle race for girls under 16—1, Elma Cotford, Salt Spring; 2, Rosie Hill, Mayne; 3, Esther Defty, Saturna.

Thread and needle race for ladies—1, Mrs. C. Twiss, Galliano; 2, Mrs. Sandford, Mayne; 3, Mrs. Defty, Saturna.

Egg and spoon race, girls under 16—1, Bunt York, Galliano; 2, Joan Paddon, Mayne; 3, Rosie Hill, Mayne.

Egg and spoon race for ladies—1, Mrs. Harford, Galliano; 2, Miss N. Steward, Galliano; 3, Mrs. D. Deacon, Mayne.

Footraces, boys under 12—1, Allen Steward, Galliano; 2, Tony Bellhouse, Galliano; 3, Tommy Cotford, Salt Spring.

Footraces, boys under 16—1, Charlie Cotford, Salt Spring; 2, Allen Steward, Galliano; 3, Tony Bellhouse, Galliano.

Sack race for boys—1, Tom York, Galliano; 2, Leslie Garrick, Mayne; 3, John Kincaid, Mayne.

Water Sports
Double scull, girls under 16—1, Phila Bellhouse, Galliano and Annie Alken, Mayne; 2, Rosie Hill, Mayne and Bunt York, Galliano.

Single scull, girls under 16—1, Rosie Hill, Mayne; 2, Bunt York, Galliano; 3, Annie Alken, Mayne; 1, Dora Payne, Saturna.

Single scull, boys under 16—1, V. Defty, Saturna; 2, Charlie Cotford, Salt Spring.

Double scull, boys under 16—1, John Payne and W. Defty, Saturna; 2, B. Edwards and H. Jones, Mayne.

Single scull for men—1, Edgar Cotford, Salt Spring; 2, John Payne, Saturna.

Double scull for men—1, George Taylor and John Payne, Saturna; 2, John Georgeson and Earl Howard, Mayne.

Canoe race, single paddle—1, W. Edwards, Mayne; 2, Harry Jones, Mayne.

Motorboat race—1, A. Pallow, Salt Spring; 2, Oswald New, Galliano.

Log-rolling contest—1, Earl Howard, Mayne; 2, John Payne, Mayne.

Approximately $125 was collected for the celebration during the previous week, which was distributed in prizes for the various events.

The day ended with a most successful dance which took place in the Mayne Island hall, a large number of people attending. There were quite a number from Salt Spring, Tofino, Ganges and Saturna. The floor was in excellent condition, and the orchestra provided splendid music. Everybody voted the affair one of the most enjoyable they had attended. Many handsome gowns were worn noticed. Dancing was kept up till a late hour.

We are glad to report Mrs. Hill is much better, and her friend, Mrs. Russell, from Victoria, is her guest.

Fire at Patricia Bay Last Friday

(Review Correspondent)

PATRICIA BAY, June 6.—

Great alarm was felt at Patricia Bay last Friday night when the Meadlands woods were discovered to be on fire. Many of the neighbors were aroused and help was soon summoned. Mr. Frank Smith, who was attending a meeting at the old North Saanich school house, heard the news and left the meeting to give his assistance. Mrs. F. E. Muir, of Patricia Bay, was the first one to notice the fire, it being just opposite her house. The fire-fighters soon got busy with axes and cut away the shrubbery, and in other ways got the fire under control. Mr. Frank Smith and Mr. Malcolm kept watch during the night. When Mr. James Bryce was notified of the fire he was quite anxious, as he was of the opinion that the fire was on his property. Mr. E. Johns, who was at Mr. James Johns, received a telephone message asking him if it was his house on fire. He rushed home in his car to find his house in no danger. About two hundred yards distant from the big fire was a little one just starting up, but Mr. Malcolm and Mr. James Wark soon put it out. The fire is still a mystery, as it was not caused by any clearing of brush or brush. The property where the fire started belongs to Mr. Geo. Sangster. At first sight it looked as though the fire would prove disastrous, but the volunteer fire-fighters soon had it under control. Several Victorian campers came to watch the fire, thinking it a rare sensation.

Miss Irene Frost spent the week-end with her parents here.

Mr. Wm. Bryce, while on his holiday here, paid a brief visit to look over his property in Deep Cove.

Miss G. Muir, of Victoria, spent the week-end at Patricia Bay.

Mr. John Marshall, of Breed's Cross Road, is busily engaged in renovating his house.

Mr. and Mrs. Pollock and little daughter "Babs," and also Miss Alberta Nelson, of Victoria, were the guests of Mr. Robert Bryce and Mr. William Bryce last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Foxall and family, of Victoria, spent Sunday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hill. Mrs. Foxall is Mrs. Hill's aunt. They motored out from the city and took a drive around the district.

Mr. and Mrs. Burridge and family, of Burnside Road, Victoria, motored out to visit their summer home at Deep Cove, and also visited Patricia Bay.

Gen. Gwynne, accompanied by Mrs. and Miss Gwynne, attended services at St. Barnabas Church, Victoria, last Sunday.

Mr. M. E. Hunter, of "Esperanza" Patricia Bay, was visited by Mrs. Foxall, of Victoria, last Sunday.

Mr. Wm. Bryce, who spent a brief but enjoyable holiday at his home here, returned to his dental studies at Portland Ore., on Monday.

Patricia Bay heartily welcomes back a former resident of the district, Mrs. A. Munro, who has been living on Marine Drive, but came to make her home in Meadlands last Friday.

Last Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert, of Deep Cove, visited Patricia Bay.

Quite a sensation was caused in the neighborhood last Friday evening when Mr. Jas. Bryce's great Holstein bull thought of causing a little fun and excitement, and wanted his name in the Sidney Review, so he got out of the yard. Two dogs were soon on the scene, also a ram. The dogs chased him, while the ram challenged him to battle. Mr. Bryce wanted to see the fun, but for "safety first" secured a pitchfork. After quite a fight the bull surrendered and thought his yard a nice place after all.

The parents of pupils attending North Saanich School, recently voted on the daylight saving question. The result showed 14 in favor of daylight saving, 16 in favor of standard time and 1 neutral. The school continues on standard time.

The regular monthly meeting of the North Saanich Women's Institute was held in Wesley Hall last Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Veitch, the president, presiding. After the opening ode had been sung, the minutes of the previous meeting, and an executive meeting were read and adopted. Fifteen members answered the roll-call.

The secretary was instructed to write letters of thanks to several who had worked and gave towards the June 3 celebration, and it was also decided that a card of thanks be placed in the Review, thanking all those who had in any way assisted in making the celebration a success.

Owing to so many of the members of the Institute being uncertain about being in Sidney on July 1, it was decided to notify the Sidney Athletic Association that the Institute would assist as much as possible if wives of members of the Athletic Association would be responsible for the stalls.

Mrs. Chancellor, Mrs. Manning and Mrs. Greenwood were proposed as new members.

Various matters were discussed at some length, and photos of the parade were passed around for the members to see.

The financial result of the June 3 celebration, as far as returns indicate at time of the meeting, is as follows:

Receipts $190.59
Expenses, to date $121.88

Balance $68.71

The members expressed their grateful thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Warnock for officiating as judges of the decorated bicycles and carriages on June 3.

Directors Held First Meeting

(Review Correspondent.)
SAANICHTON, June 6.—The board of directors of the Saanich Agricultural Society held a meeting in the Agricultural Hall last week. Mr. Tanner presided, and nineteen directors were present. The reports of the various prize list committee for the fall fair were dealt with, few changes being made in the list of last year. The most important change in the ladies' section was the decision that jars of preserved fruits, meat, fish and vegetables were not to be opened in judging except when the competition was very keen. Generous prizes have been donated and it has been decided that the society should hold a ball on Oct. 6. This will be a real old-time affair, the ladies being asked to make arrangements.

Saanich boys and girls are going in for pure-bred stock at Keating and Saanich. They have formed a "Boys' and Girls' Calf Club" under direction of Prof. W. S. McDonald, livestock commissioner. Each member has received a calf. The clubs are similar to those formed in other parts of Canada, the calves being distributed to the members and becoming their personal property. The distribution is financed by the Canadian bank, the member paying the money back gradually, and when their animal is full grown they have a cow that is worth a lot of money. One of the clubs formed is a Jersey, the other a Holstein. Members of the Jersey Club who each got calves are Willard Michell, Fred Tomlinson, Walter Brooks, Gordon Michell, Dell Stewart, Jack Brooks, Fred Michell and Ruth Tomlinson. Members of the Holstein Club are Thos. Michell, Geo. Malcolm, Jas. Nimmo, Ralph Michell, Myrtle Malcolm and Evelyn Nimmo. All of them were up the next morning before the calves were awake to attend to them and get them started right in their new homes. The breeders sold the calves at a nominal figure, Prof. McDonald said, and the members obtaining calves that could not have been obtained by a private breeder or farmer at any price. The breeders appreciate the value of this work and wish to give the boys and girls the best animals. H. M. Hillis, pure-bred stock fancier, offered two prizes of $25 to be competed for at the Saanich fall fair. One is for the Holstein calf shown in the best condition and one for the best conditioned Jersey. P. D. Hillis is one of the originators of the calf club movement here.

The Strawberry Vale Women's Institute will give a concert and dance in the Agricultural Hall on June 9. A few old Saanich residents paid a surprise visit to Mr. S. Sidwell last Monday evening and spent a very jolly time. Mrs. Sidwell is still in California and Mr. Sidwell intends leaving for there in the near future on a holiday.

We regret to learn that little Freda Spencer is in hospital and hope she will soon be able to be home again. A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Jeune last Tuesday evening when cards and music were indulged in. Among the guests were Miss Myrtle Malcolm, Mrs. A. Pope, Mrs. Purser (Portland), Mr. and Mrs. Jeune, Misses E. A. and E. Jeune.

So many "child wonders" of the pretty boy type have been shown in motion pictures of recent years that the average patron of the cinema has begun to associate the various "Little Willies" and "Baby Harolds" programmed, as angelic faced cherubs with halos of golden locks surmounting their innocent heads.

What then will be their relief in watching little Wesley Barry in the precocious copy boy in Marshall Neilan's forceful newspaper photoplay, "Go and Get It" which will be shown at the Auditorium tomorrow and Saturday evenings.

By no stretch of imagination could one classify Wesley among the beauty prize winners of juvenile filmdom. But this handicap is not worrying this youngster—not a bit. Down in his innermost subconscious self, young Barry knows that he has what a lot of the others haven't—brains, and the ability to use them. Barry, in the character of "Dinty," the freckled-faced wonder of the Harbor City Gazette, is one of the brightest spots in this Neilan masterpiece of bright spots. Whenever Dinty is in the picture it is either a laugh or a thrill for the audience.

A good comedy, "Petticoats and Pants," will also be a part of the programme for the two nights.

To Close Saturday Night. After the Saturday night show the Auditorium will be closed for a couple of months. During the time the theatre is closed Mr. Halsey will make extensive alterations with a view to making the Auditorium more comfortable for the patrons when it is re-opened. Mr. Halsey feels very gratified at the generous patronage given him since he took charge of the Auditorium, and hopes all old patrons, as well as many new ones, will patronize the Auditorium when it is again open for business.

Anniversary Was Celebrated

(Review Correspondent.)

JAMES ISLAND, June 6.—On Thursday night Mr. and Mrs. Dakin celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding day. A large number of guests spent a very jolly evening playing cards, dancing, etc. There was an apparently never-failing punch-bowl for all who felt a thirst and, when ice creams and cakes were served, an enormous white wedding cake was carried in and placed before Mrs. Dakin. The cake was decorated with 25 white candles and a charming little kewpie bride and bridegroom. This was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce. At the same time the guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Dakin with a silver teapot, and Mr. Lyons made one of his usual humorous speeches, wishing the host and hostess every happiness.

Mr. Thomas returned from the east last Friday, travelling via Chicago and Seattle. Mrs. and Miss Dolly Thomas went to Seattle to meet him, spending a few days there.

Miss Ella Brown spent last Thursday night on the islands, and was the guest of Mrs. Norman Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Rivers went to Duncan in their car for the week-end.

Mrs. S. Brown spent the week-end with Mrs. Noakes, who invited a number of friends to meet her on Saturday night. A very enjoyable evening was spent with music and cards.

The ladder tennis tournament began last Tuesday and is now in full swing.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmens and son, Raymond, left the island on Sunday morning for a three months' holiday in England.

Mr. Holland has bought a car to use on the holiday which he and Mrs. Holland are taking in the summer.

The Polar Force, with 27 passengers, went to Coal Island for the Moore Club picnic last Sunday. Various sports were indulged in during the afternoon. The picnic took place at Coal Island, and as far as we know nobody was sick—seasick, that is—although the sea was not exactly glassy.

Messrs. Rowbotham, Bond and Wright went to Cowichan Bay last Sunday and then up Mill Creek, where they caught 31 trout.

On Sunday morning the "Double O" party set out gaily for Moresby Island, but as it was late and the sea very choppy they changed their minds and put in at the Sidney Island brick works.

Twenty-three pupils of the James Island school entered the competition for free arm muscular movement writing organized by Mr. McLean, of the Normal School, Vancouver. Twenty-two out of the twenty-three passed successfully two of them, Peter Robb and Walter Meredith, receiving the senior diplomas.

Meeting of G. A. U. V.

This association will hold a special meeting tomorrow evening at 8.30 o'clock sharp in the new headquarters, Fifth street, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing six months. The chair will be taken by the president of the Grand Army. As only full paid-up members are qualified to take part in the meeting it is earnestly requested that all prospective members, and those who already have their application forms not fully paid up, should see to this matter at once. The secretary pro tem will be in attendance at the headquarters between the hours of 10.30 a.m. until 10.30 p.m. for this purpose. All military and naval men having served in His Majesty's Forces at any period are eligible for nomination, and those residing in the suburbs and also on the Islands should endeavor to attend this special meeting on Friday evening. Reports from time to time will be issued by the Provincial Command. The number of branches exceed 80 with an approximate membership of 100,000.

President Expresses Regret. In connection with the informal opening of the Sidney Branch of the Grand Army of United Veterans on Saturday evening, June 3, the King's birthday, the president, in conversation with a Review representative, expressed regret that any annoying incident took place on that occasion, and he was very emphatic in his statement that in future all infractions will be severely dealt with. At the same time he wished to point out that the members of the association were not entirely to blame for the incident under discussion, owing to a number of visitors being present at the celebration held here that day. These people were not members of the association, and they were mainly responsible for any disturbance which was created. The president also wished to point out that this organization is anxious and willing to co-operate for the good and welfare of the district and the community, and with any of the existing societies and institutions, and promises his full support.

The formal opening of the Provincial Grand will be announced at an early date.

Meeting of United Farmers

The usual business meeting of the North Saanich Local, U. F. B. C., was held on Friday, June 2, in the old school house, at which there was a very good attendance. A pleasant feature of each meeting now is that new members are joining.

A good discussion took place as to whether it is advisable or not to have the Pound Laws in force in North Saanich, which ended in a resolution being sent to the Minister of Agriculture to that effect.

Other items of business were quickly disposed of as an important discussion on fruit was in order. The committee consisting of Mr. Jackson, of Deep Cove, Col. Jarvis, of the East Road, and the secretary, W. C. Clarke, reported that they had fulfilled the wishes of the members and placed a contract for fruit with A. P. Slade & Co., of Victoria, and for the jam berries with Messrs. Beach-Eatkins, at what was considered very reasonable prices. This is practically a fulfillment of the co-operative scheme under way during the last few months. It is hoped that anyone that may be interested in the packing of fruit will please attend at either the following places on June 14, when Mr. W. E. White, the district horticulturist, will demonstrate the correct method of packing fruit in the fields of the following gentlemen: Mr. Bawden, Breed's Cross Road, 10 a.m.; Mr. Jackson, Deep Cove, 1 p.m.; Col. Jarvis, East Road, Sidney, 3 p.m. Anyone residing near any of these localities cordially welcomed.

News From West Saanich

(Review Correspondent.)

WEST SAANICH, June 6.—There was a fairly good attendance at the dance held under the auspices of the West Saanich Women's Institute at the West Road Hall on Wednesday last. The excessive heat, however, was responsible for keeping away quite a number of otherwise would-be patrons. Those who did attend had a very enjoyable time and a great deal of interest was shown in the prize waltz. The judges appointed were Mr. W. O. Wallace and Mrs. F. Verdier, and the prizes were awarded to Miss Ruth Tomlinson and Mr. D. Douglas Murray. Mr. Roy Pitzer won the prize of the basket of chocolates presented by Mr. W. O. Wallace. Refreshments were served under the able convenorship of Miss Hilda Maber. Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Guy were in attendance at the lemonade and candy stall, and Mrs. Osborne had charge of the door receipts. On the whole the dance was a success and a fair sum will be added to the Institute building fund as a consequence.
